

RECOMMENDATION LETTER

Dear, ...

It is my pride to recommend ... (name) for admission to the masters' program at ... (name of university). She has been my employee for nearly three years, and I would rank her as one of the most industrious and hardworking employees I have ever had. She is dedicated to any work she has started. Overall, ... (name) is reliable, highly intelligent and has excellent problem solving and analytical skills. Also, she has perfect communication skills that enable her to be in a good relationship with the colleagues, management, clients, and other people.

I would like to highlight that ... (name) is highly proficient in applying her knowledge and skills in analyzing the problem situations and finding the right solutions. She has proven to be very responsible and reliable. Her desire to help others, support them, and provide assistance if needed has resulted in the fact that he has become a leader of the team. ... (name) always explains her views very concisely and listens to different points of view.

... (name) is a pleasant and well-disciplined personality. At work, she has demonstrated great perseverance, initiative, as well as the desire to develop and get promotion. Also, she is ready to get new skills in case the work requires it. Moreover, she does not fear any difficult task or project as she is convinced that constant development of skills is what most employees lack. ... (name) is a good employee that has a great future. However, further education will enable her to get promotion and become a successful employee, taking one of the top positions in the company. Therefore, I would highly recommend ... (name) to the masters' program at ... (name of university). She will definitely show herself as a good student interested in constant development, improvement, and research.

Yours sincerely,